INTRODUCTION

PURPOSE

This manual is provided as both a reference manual and a user's guide for the criminal clerk's version of the ACIS Criminal Module.

SCOPE OF CRIMINAL CLERK USER MODULE

The criminal clerk's user menu provides criminal case information to North Carolina Clerk of Superior Court offices by automating the process by which these courts create indexes, calendars, and docket cases, notification of individuals of case status and exceptions, and staff attorney assignments.

SYMBOLS USED IN THIS MANUAL

All function keys are enclosed in brackets { }.

All field titles will be in capital letters (FIELD TITLE).

You will find imperative information for using a screen or function beginning with 'NOTE:'

SIGNING ON TO THE SYSTEM

If you are accessing the application at a "public terminal", there is no sign-on needed. If access is not through a public terminal, refer to the sign-on instructions that have been provided or check with your supervisor.

PUBLIC RECORDS

Most criminal case information in North Carolina is public record. There are a few exceptions, such as records regarding arrest warrants that have been issued but not returned to the Clerk's office by the law enforcement agency serving the warrants. All information in ACIS subject to disclosure as public record is available to any inquiry user. Non-public information is restricted to users permitted access by law.

ACCESSING DATA

In order to inquire on data an inquiry on the defendant name, citation number or case/file number can be performed. Each of these search types has certain requirements that must be followed in order to produce desirable results. The following formats for entering certain data are standard throughout this manual.

NAME FORMATTING (Defendant, Alias, Law Enforcement, Witnesses, Attorney)

Last, First, Middle (or initial), Suffix

Enter the name in the above format with no punctuation other than a comma separating the parts of the name.

Do not enter any spaces between the parts of the name. Use commas (,) as the separators. Do not enter any punctuation at the end of the name (Ex. - Smith, Donald, E, and Jr). Do not include titles (Ex. - Dr, Mr). Always enter the name starting in the leftmost position of the field. Failure to follow these data entry rules may result in difficulty in retrieving names when performing name inquiries.

The full name is desired, but at least one alphabetic character is accepted.

Business names should be entered following the global naming standards and should not include the use of commas or periods (See “Miscellaneous - Naming Standards Appendix” – Page 1: Entering Corporation or Company Names).

CITATION NUMBER

When entering the citation number, the first position of the field cannot be blank. Enter the citation number beginning in the 1st position of the field including any alpha characters without embedded blanks.

FILE NUMBER

The file number is displayed in the system and stored in the database as YYXXX999999 where:

- YY = File Year (Default is current year)
- XXX = Classification (IF or IFS)
- 999999 = Sequence Number (Zero filled)

To enter the file number (if the file year is the current year), you must enter 'IF' and the case sequence number. For example, if you enter 'IF500', the system will default to the current year. If the file year is not current, you must enter the year in the first two characters of the file number. It is not necessary to insert a space in the classification (for example 'IF '), nor is it necessary to zero fill the sequence number ('000500'). The system will display the file number on the screens as '02IF 000500'.

ERROR CONDITIONS

If any data entered does not pass the edit criteria, an error message number and error message will be displayed on the screen. A description of all error messages can be found after each field description. If an error message is displayed, correct the field in error and depress the {ENTER} key.

Error messages typically appear at the top of the screen, but sometimes appear elsewhere on the screen. Error messages are easily distinguished from the regular screen display because it will be a different color.

The following is a sample of an error message followed by the explanation of the components:

IF007 - Case Not Found.

- “IF007” represents the assigned application error number.
- “Case Not Found” represents the explanation of the error.

CRIMINAL SYSTEM SECURITY

PRIMARY USER GROUPS

The criminal module is designed for direct use by the various component agencies of the court system and for reference access by authorized non-court agencies (Ex. - Probation Office, State Highway Patrol, Division of Criminal Information, etc.). Due to the variety of functions that can be performed, a multi-level security procedure has been established to provide each user with specified access authority regarding various portions of the criminal module. This avoids overlapping lines of responsibility, redundant entry of pertinent data, and unauthorized use of data. The three primary court user groups for the criminal module are:

Clerk of Superior Court

District Attorney and Public Defender

Magistrates

LEVELS OF SECURITY

Physical security is the first of the functions of security built into the Automated Criminal/Infractions System (ACIS). Physical security refers to reliance on authorized users of ACIS to locally control access to and safeguard assigned computer devices and other computer-related equipment. Important as physical security is, it is not enough. Therefore, five (5) additional security checks have been designed into ACIS:

CESN Log-on code

RACF Sign-on code

Password code

Device identification

Function (usage) code

These five (5) security checks function by codes, which are assigned on a confidential basis to the individual users of the criminal module. This is coupled with a crosschecking of device entered codes against a list of authorized codes and retained in the criminal module.

These five (5) security checks are used to further control access to the computer and its data files. Issuance and usage of confidential, sign-on codes successfully insure data and system security. The computer's security system performs an immediate table look-up to verify an authorized log-on and sign-on code. The user must then pass the next security check. Each authorized user must key the unique identification code (password) that has been confidentially assigned to that person. The computer verifies the password in the same manner as done for the sign-on code. In addition, the computer verifies the unique device identification number that has been assigned to the in-use device. The combination check of sign-on code, password, and device identification becomes an automatic security check by the system before the user can proceed.

An additional level of security is provided through the assignment of function codes. These codes limit individuals to only certain types of processing. For example, a user may be authorized for inquiry purposes only, while another user may be authorized for add, update and inquiry functions, and another user may be authorized to delete cases. The management staff of each office will determine usage authority given to each user. Any changes to the usage authority will be the responsibility of the management staff.

NOTE: Due to the sensitive nature of the case related data stored in the computer, it is imperative that the sign-on and password codes be considered confidential and secure. These codes must not be given to another individual. Always sign-off before leaving the terminal so that another person cannot use your assigned password.

CRIMINAL MODULE OVERVIEW

PURPOSE AND DESIGN

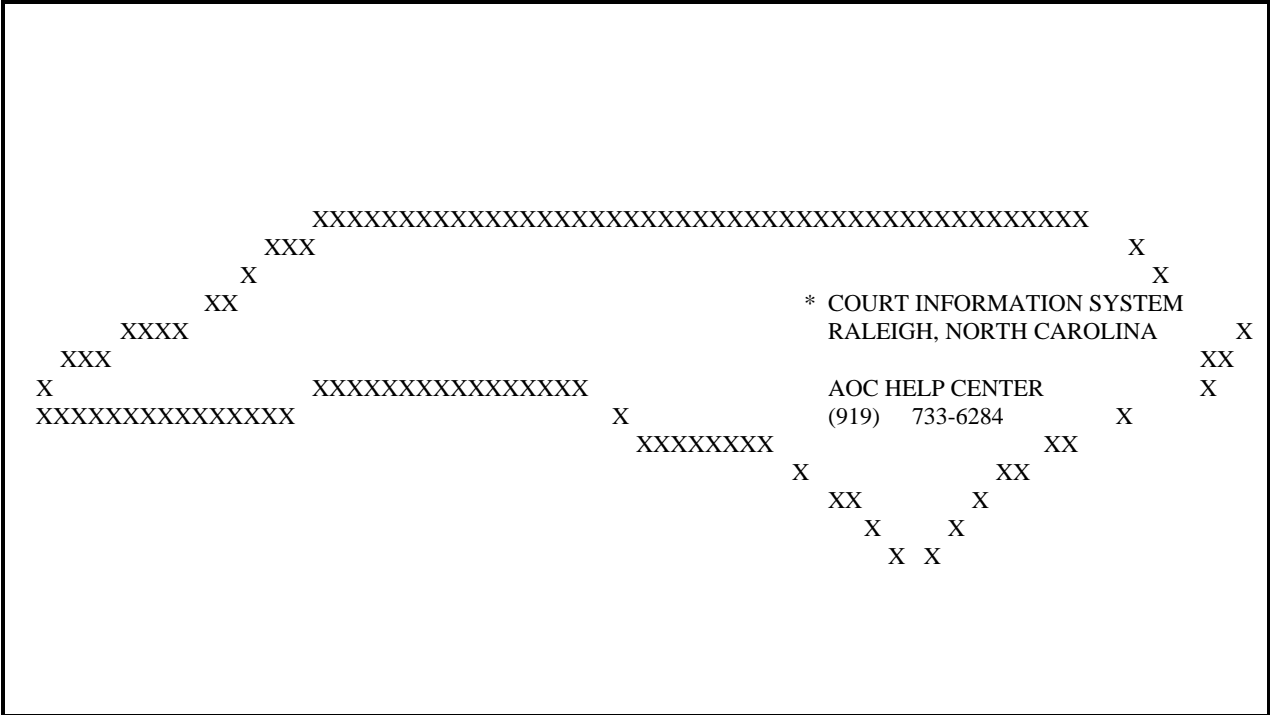

The purpose of the Automated Criminal/Infractions System (ACIS), criminal module, is to provide the superior and district courts in North Carolina with accurate and timely criminal case information. This is accomplished by automating the process by which these courts create indexes, calendars and docket cases, notify individuals of case status and exceptions, and control the reporting of dispositions and final judgments for criminal cases.

The criminal module is designed to maintain both index and case status information as a by-product of normal case processing activities. Normally, criminal cases are initiated from warrants, citations, magistrate orders, summonses, etc. The basic design of the criminal module requires that identifying data be keyed into the automated system from the case initiating document. Additional case data and status information including witnesses, attorney names and alias names, is used to update the case as it becomes available. This provides a complete history of all case related activity, and ultimately, disposition data.

The District Attorney and Public Defender have inquiry access, and the ability to assign attorney names to each case. The District Attorney can add calendar assignments to a case. Both the District Attorney and Public Defender have access to witness add and update functions. The magistrates as well as local and state agencies have case add and inquiry access through special menus designed for their purposes.

6. Enter the county number or group, if necessary. The valid county numbers (see file Miscellaneous - County Codes.XLS for valid county numbers) are '000' - '999' and the valid groups are 'SEC' (Clerks Secured Function), 'ADM' (Security Administrator), and 'SRS' (Statistical Reporting). If this field is left blank, the user will be signed on to their default county. This field will be left blank for most users. If the county or group is not valid, then one of the following error message numbers and messages will appear:

SO005 - COUNTY/GROUP NOT VALID

SO006 - COUNTY/GROUP NOT FOUND

7. Enter the userid, which is the Resource Access Control Facility Identification Number (RACF) ID. This is a 6-character code that identifies a user. An example for a clerk is C99III where 99 is the first two digits of the county number and III are the clerk's initials. The screen may be displayed with a userid that was previously signed on at this device. If this occurs, the current user should key over the displayed userid with the correct userid. If the userid is already correct, then only the password will be necessary.
8. Type your Password. There must be at least 4 characters but less than eight (8) characters. The first character must be an alpha character. After the first character, any combination of letters and numbers are allowed. This will be your RACF password. Some examples of valid passwords follow: (APPLE, A1234567, and A12A34A). Some examples of invalid passwords follow (12345678, 1ABCDE, BAD). Depress the {ENTER} key. If any PF key other than PF5 or PF12 is selected, the following error message will appear:

SO004 - INVALID PF KEY ENTERED - PLEASE TRY AGAIN

The password will be assigned when the userid is assigned. This password will expire every thirty days at which time a new one will need to be entered. The user has the option to change this password by selecting the {PF5} key before the automatic change is required. If this is the first time the RACF ID is used in any application, the user will be prompted for a new password immediately.

9. If the correct userid and password have been entered, the user profile (name, access level, etc.) exists in the application security file and your RACF password has not expired, then the menu assigned to the userid and county/group will be displayed. The sign on is now complete.
10. If the userid and/or password entered does not verify, then a security violation message will appear indicating one of the following:

SO007 - USERID IS REQUIRED
(The userid was left blank)

- SO014 - USERID IS INCORRECT
(The userid was not found under RACF. Please verify and rekey the userid)
- SO015 - USERID IS REVOKED
(The user may not sign onto any application until the revocation is removed and a new password is assigned. Check with your supervisor to verify that you should have access to this application. If you have authority to access this application, then contact the Help Desk)
- SO016 - PASSWORD IS INCORRECT
(Rekey the correct password)
- SO017 - SIGN ON ATTEMPT IS INVALID

Type the userid and password, then try again. If one of the above error messages appears again, call the Help Desk. Five attempts are allowed when signing on. After the 5th unsuccessful attempt, the userid will be revoked. The userid will also be revoked after 45 days of inactivity (no attempt to sign on has been made within the time frame).

11. If the password has expired, the sign-on screen will be displayed to allow a new password to be entered. The error message below will appear:

SO012 - PASSWORD HAS EXPIRED - ENTER NEW PASSWORD

The sign-on screen will also be displayed when the {PF5} is selected. The following message will also be displayed:

SO003 - ENTER NEW PASSWORD

12. Enter the new RACF password. It must pass the following criteria:

1. It must be from 4 to 8 characters long.
2. The first character must be a letter of the alphabet.
3. It can not be the same as a password you used within the past 6 password changes.

Depress the {ENTER} key. If an error occurs, then one of the following error message numbers and messages will appear:

SO001 - ENTER USERID BEFORE SETTING NEW PASSWORD

SO002 - ENTER PASSWORD BEFORE SETTING NEW PASSWORD

If errors were made, make the appropriate corrections and depress the {ENTER} key again. Once the screen is error free, the following message will appear:

SO008 - RE-TYPE NEW PASSWORD

Type the new password again. It must be exactly the same as what was typed the first time. If an error occurs, one of the following error message numbers and messages will appear:

SO009 - SECOND ATTEMPT UNEQUAL TO FIRST - TRY AGAIN

SO013 - NEW PASSWORD IS NOT ACCEPTABLE - TRY AGAIN

If no errors occurred, then the password will be changed and must be used from this point until the password expires. If the userid and application password already exist in the application security file, then the menu assigned to the ID will be displayed. The sign on is now complete.

NOTE: When your RACF password is changed in any application, e.g. Criminal/Infraction System or Email, it is changed in all RACF applications at the same time.

13. If the userid and application password do not already exist in the application security file, then the following screen will be displayed along with the error message:

SO010 - APPLICATION PASSWORD NOT FOUND

Enter the old application password here. If an error occurs, one of the following error message numbers and messages will appear:

SO010 - APPLICATION PASSWORD NOT FOUND

SO011 - APPLICATION PASSWORD ALREADY CONVERTED

If the old password exists in the application security file, then the menu assigned to the RACF ID will be displayed. The sign on is now complete and access to the section that describes your menu is allowed. This step will only be required the first time when using the new sign-on procedure. The old application password is no longer valid after this conversion.

Five attempts are allowed to correctly enter the old application password. After the 5th attempt, the userid will be revoked.

14. Repeat the above steps to convert additional passwords. An example would be where there is an update password just converted and a secured password needs to be converted now. Key SEC in the County/Group Field, enter the userid if necessary and the current RACF password. Enter the old secured application password in the application password field. The clerk's secured menu will appear if the application password accessed the clerk's secured menu.

Using the Defendant/Alias Name Inquiry function

This function provides the ability to view a list of Criminal and Infractions cases for the same defendant/alias name and the summary of data for the case. The only fields that allow data entry are the MODE and NEXT NAME fields. An explanation of these fields and the data displayed in the screen follows.

Defendant/Alias Name Inquiry Field Descriptions

Refer to the following field descriptions of the data being displayed.

1. MODE

The one (1) position MODE determines how the screen will function. It first appears with a 'C' for normal name search processing. It may be changed to an 'A' for ACCESSING THE CASE ALIAS INQUIRY FUNCTION, to an 'T' for accessing the ICA/FILE NUMBER INQUIRY FUNCTION, to an 'S' for ACCESSING THE SID NAME INQUIRY FUNCTION, to a 'U' for ACCESSING THE DISPOSITION UPDATE FUNCTION or a 'D' for ACCESSING THE DISPOSITION INQUIRY FUNCTION. Refer to those functions for additional information.

If an error occurs, one of the following error message numbers and messages will appear:

NI005 - INVALID REQUEST. ENTER C, A, D, I OR U ONLY

NI006 - HOME POSITION MUST BE 'C'

2. DEFENDANT/ALIAS NAME

This field contains the defendant or alias name in the following format:
Last, First, Middle (or Initial), Suffix

3. * or @ (Defendant/Alias Flag)

An 'asterisk' (*) in the right most position of the name field indicates an alias name was entered for the case as well as the defendant name. An 'at sign' (@) in the right most position indicates that the name displayed in this screen is an alias name.

4. T (Session)

An 'A' is displayed for morning courtroom session, a 'P' for afternoon courtroom session and an 'N' for night courtroom session.

5. OFFENSE

This field contains the arraigned offense text.

6. CTRM (Courtroom Number)

This field contains the courtroom number.

NOTE: Courtroom number is normally deleted when a disposition date is entered. This field should not be used for determining the status of a case (pending or disposed).

7. TRIAL (Date)

The trial or hearing date is displayed in MMDDYY format.

8. CT (Offense Number)

If one (01) or two (02) is displayed in this field, then the offense displayed is a district court offense. (District court offense numbers can range from 01-49). Fifty-one (51) or fifty-two (52) is displayed for superior court offenses. Superior court offenses can range from 51-99.

NOTE: Individual cases can have multiple charges for each court type (district and superior).

9. FILE NUMBER

The file number for the case is displayed. 'CR' or 'IF' is displayed for the district court and 'CRS' or 'IFS' for the superior court. If a file number for a case is displayed more than once, then the case has more than one charge.

10. L (Court Location)

This field currently displays the court location for a case in Guilford County only. A 'G' indicates a Greensboro case and an 'H' indicates a High Point case.

USING THE DEFENDANT RECORD CHECK FUNCTION

This function provides the ability to perform an electronic record search based upon selection criteria and screen printing the results. The Clerk of Court requires certification of the data. Refer to the section entitled DEFENDANT RECORD CHECK REQUEST FIELD DESCRIPTIONS for data requirements.

NOTE: Refer to USING THE DEFENDANT RECORD CHECK ARCHIVES FUNCTION for descriptions of Archival Cases and selection criteria.

DEFENDANT RECORD CHECK REQUEST FIELD DESCRIPTIONS

Each data field is listed in numerical sequence as it appears on the screen from left to right. Explanations of all possible data elements along with data error messages are provided.

- 1. NNN COUNTY (County Number and Name)
The three (3) digit county number and name originating the request is displayed.
- 2. MMDDYY (Current Date)
This is the system date displayed in MonthDayYear format.
- 3. NAME (DEFENDANT OR ALIAS)
Either the defendant name or the LID number must be entered for a record check. Enter the name in up to twenty eight (28) positions. As in all names, use the standard system name format (Last, First, Middle (Initial), Suffix). The full name is desired, but at least one alphabetic character is accepted. The name is required in order to perform the record check function and the following will apply:

SOUNDEX MATCH

A soundex match is requested by ending the requested name with a question mark (?). An example would be Smith? Or, by entering an "X" in the AOC REQUEST field. In either case, no first name information is used in evaluating name matches.

PARTIAL MATCH

A partial match is requested by using one of three methods: entering the last name; last name and comma; or last name, comma and question mark. Examples would be 'Smith', 'Smith,', or 'Smith,' or, by entering a fixed last name and a partial first name with a question mark. Examples would be 'Smith, J?' and 'Smith, Jo?'

EXACT NAME MATCH

An exact name match is requested by enter the name 'exactly' as it was originally entered in the automated system. No question mark is used in this type of request.

NOTE: See "Introduction" chapter for name entry standards. Names should not include commas or periods. For company/business names, see "Miscellaneous - Naming Standards Appendix" – Page 1: Entering Corporation or Company Names.

NOTE: The AOC Automated and Criminal Infraction System (ACIS) will allow 28 characters to be entered for a defendant's name. However, only a maximum of 27 characters of the name will be displayed on an inquiry. (Exception is the Clerks Secured Menu, which displays all 28 characters.) This "truncated" version occurs because the 28th spot is reserved for the '*' or the '@' sign to be shown when the defendant has an alias.

This cannot be corrected in the current ACIS system and unfortunately, this can cause a problem when inquiring by exact names. Example: A record created with a complete, true defendant's name - Acme, William, Christopher, III will be accepted in ACIS, however, could result in a "no matches for this request" if inquired, via PF3, by the complete, true name.

4. LID (Local Identification Number)

Either the defendant name or the LID number must be entered for a record check. If a record check is requested for an LID number, then this field is required. Enter the LID number if fifteen (15) alphanumeric positions.

5. RACE

This is a one (1) character field and A, B, I, O, U, W or X may be entered but is not required. If entered, all cases matching the race or a blank race will be selected. Should the field be left blank, all cases passing the NAME request criteria will be displayed.

6. SEX

This is a one (1) character field and F, M, U OR X may be entered but is not required. If entered, all cases matching the sex or a blank sex will be selected. If the field is left blank, all cases passing the NAME request criteria will be displayed.

7. DATE OF BIRTH

This is an eight (8) character numeric field and a date of birth may be entered but is not required. If entered, all cases matching the date of birth or a blank date of birth will be selected. If the field is left blank, all cases passing the NAME request criteria will be displayed.

8. CASE SELECTION

PENDING:, DISPOSED:, CONVICTED:, MOTOR VEHICLE: OR UNSERVED

These are one (1) character fields and at least one selection is required unless the AOC REQUEST option is selected. Enter an 'X' beside the option(s) desired. Multiple options may be requested per name. Each option causes different data to be selected/displayed.

9. AOC REQUEST

This is a one (1) character field but is not required if at least one case selection is entered. Should an 'X' be entered for this selection, the last name of the requested name is automatically soundexed by the system and a search is conducted among all of the above categories. This option returns large amounts of data and should only be used in instances where there is uncertainty about the defendant name or the case data to be selected.

Only Wake and Mecklenburg counties have archived records on the system. It is not applicable unless you are looking at records in those two counties. All cases that meet the archive criteria are not archived. The process of moving production cases to archival cases is done periodically and not for all counties.

The following is a listing of the archive case criteria:

(These rules were followed exactly for Wake County. When Mecklenburg County was converted to ACIS, some of their data was not compatible with ACIS data. These cases were written to the archive database in order to keep a partial history of the case. Some of the data fields appear with data such as 'unknown' and do not follow the archived rules)

1. Cases with a felony charge have not been archived.
2. Cases with an SBI Fingerprint Check Digit number have not been archived.
3. Cases with a misdemeanor offense type (M) and a not guilty (NG) verdict are archived thirty (30) days past the most current offense disposition date (DISP DATE) and the date of the last update (the system date captured when the last update to the case was made).
4. Cases with a misdemeanor offense type (M) and a guilty (GU) verdict are archived one hundred eighty (180) days past the most current offense disposition date (DISP DATE) and the date of the last update (the system date captured when the last update to the case was made).

5. Cases where all offenses are motor vehicle (offense type T or I) are archived thirty (30) days past the most current offense disposition date (DISP DATE) and the date of the last update (the system date captured when the last update to the case was made).
6. Cases where the Supplemental {PF6} REINSTATEMENT field is equal to 'Y' will not be archived.
7. Cases where the Disposition {PF8} MONIES PAID field is equal to 'N' will not be archived.
8. Cases in an appealed status to the State Court of Appeals will not be archived.

USING THE CRIMINAL DISPOSITION INQUIRY FUNCTION

The purpose of the Criminal Disposition Inquiry Function is to allow viewing of judgment data or disposition of an offense or case. Three (3) additional screens may be accessed from this function: Judgment Data, Offenses Consolidated for Judgment, and Criminal DMV Events Inquiry.

Instructions on the use and access of these screens are also included in this section.

Refer to the CRIMINAL DISPOSITION INQUIRY FIELD DESCRIPTIONS, ACCESSING THE JUDGMENT DATA SCREEN, ACCESSING THE OFFENSES CONSOLIDATED FOR JUDGMENT AND ACCESSING THE CRIMINAL DMV EVENTS INQUIRY SCREEN.
